

Explore: change

Big changes are waiting on your doorstep. Imagine the effect of aging, climate change, food production, population growth, the metaverse, polarisation, robots, social welfare, trade policies, urbanization, migration, web 3.0, xenophobia, young people in Sub-Saharan Africa, and circularity, to name a few.

All these changes are going to influence you big time. And you can have a big influence on them. It is important to know what is waiting on your doorstep. To create that insight, we analyzed and classified thousands of studies and publications worldwide, and defined a hundred different major changes.

We wrote a book (the printer is currently binding 45 sections) and are happy to share all knowledge with you of what we internally now call 'project change'. Curious? Check out change.ftprf.com and let us know what you think. Together we can change the future. Shall we?
